

MR. CAMERON, EXAM. BY MR. HEBERT

1 A. [No verbal response].

2 Q. Have you read any of the sworn testimony here at the
3 -- that has been given at the Inquiry?

4 A. Bits and pieces, yes.

5 Q. Bit and pieces, okay.

6 A. Uh-huh.

7 Q. And we're now into, I believe, day 67 - 9, something
8 like that. I take it that you would agree with me that
9 you have not even reviewed a fraction of the evidence
10 that has been given at this Inquiry, have you?

11 A. It would be impossible.

12 Q. Well, it's not impossible because it's a finite
13 thing.

14 A. Well, if -- I go to work every day; I have a job.

15 Q. I appreciate that.

16 COMMISSIONER Mr. Hebert, do you want to wind this down?

17 MR. HEBERT Okay, I will wind this down, Mr.

18 Commissioner. The point is, Mr. Cameron, that you've
19 come into this Inquiry, you've provided your opinion
20 without -- to use your phrase, "You have enjoyed the 21 comfort of opinion without the discomfort of thought," --

22 A. Uh-huh.

23 Q. -- because you haven't taken the time to find out
24 what evidence has actually been presented at this
25 Inquiry. And I submit to you that the position that
