

MR. CAMERON, EXAM. BY MR. ROBERTS

1 yesterday, sir, when which you asked, and I take it
2 rhetorically, "Who is pressing the reset button? Is it
3 the inspector?" Do you recall saying that?

4 A. Yes, I think that's --

5 Q. I'm going to ask you -- I'm following along from 6 that, sir, who was responsible for issuing orders to
7 Westray on April 29th that it immediately clean up coal
8 dust? It wasn't the continuous miner operator, was it?

9 A. No, it was an inspector.

10 Q. Right. And who was responsible for issuing orders
11 to Westray on April the 29th, that they immediately stone
12 dust the mine? That was --

13 A. Well --

14 Q. -- the inspector too, wasn't it?

15 A. -- if they did at that time, it would be the 16 inspector, yes.

17 Q. And who was responsible for seeing that Westray
18 complied with those orders? It was contin -- it was the 19 inspector, not the continuous miner operator, correct?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. Right. Those are all responsibilities of the 22 inspectors under the Department of Labour?

23 A. Yes, that would be.

24 Q. All right. Now in your description, as you gave it,
25 of your theory of the actual causes of the explosion --
